MAKE BRITAIN STRONG ONCE AGAIN!

THATCHER

(and jail the Tory traitors)

APRIL FOOLS DAY fell on 2nd April for Britain this year. That was the day when the nation of Drake, Raleigh and Nelson allowed itself to get mugged in the South Atlantic by a grubby gang of Dagoes from Argentina.

While the final outcome of the story cannot be foreseen, its initial episodes contain vital lessons for Britain.

The first lesson is that WEAKNESS INVITES AGGRESSION.

This fact of life is so simple and obvious, and yet it seems that each new generation learn it the hard way.

Successive British governments have known for decades that the Argentinians claimed the Falkland Islands and that they would seize the islands by armed force if they thought they could get away with it.

UNARMED

Yet in the face of this knowledge the government withdrew the Royal Navy from the South Atlantic save for the token presence of the tiny and virtually unarmed HMS Endeavour.

Indeed, the government announced some months ago that even the Endeavour was soon to be withdrawn as a part of its programme of economy cuts.

That decision indicated that the government had no intention of providing any protection for the Falklands, and could only be viewed by the Argentinians as an invitation to invade.

TRAITORS

Indeed, the government's conduct prior to 2nd April was so irresponsible that it is impossible to disregard the possibility that traitors as well as the criminally incompetent stalk the corridors of Whitehall.

After the quick resignation of the Foreign Secretary, Sir Peter Carrington, and during the upsurge of patriotism which has attended the dispatch of the Task Force to the Falklands, the question of traitors and incompetents in high places has been swept under the carpet.

But a thorough purge of the guilty people must be conducted soon — especially if Britain must shed the blood of its servicemen and/or expend large quantities of the nation's treasure on putting the Falklands to rights.

TALKING SHOPS

The second lesson to learn is that INTERNATIONAL TALKING SHOPS LIKE THE UNITED NATIONS PROVIDE NO SECURITY AGAINST DETERMINED AGGRESSORS.

During recent years the expression "World Opinion" has crept into the verbiage of politicians. They talk as if United Nations resolutions were actually capable of preventing war.

In fact, as we have seen over the Falklands crisis, United Nations Security (sic) Council resolutions — even those carried without dissent — are just so much hot air.

When did public opinion, which is generally on the side of old ladies and against muggers, stop old ladies getting mugged?

Yet there are still politicians who kid themselves and try to kid us that the ultimate defence is "World Opinion" expressed through the United Nations!

The politicians who support this line are either naive idealists with no understanding of the real world, or they are decadent opportunists who cut national defence expenditure as an electoral bribe, or they are plain traitors.

The third lesson to learn is that BRITAIN CANNOT RELY SOLELY ON A NUCLEAR DETERRENT TO PROTECT HER VITAL INTERESTS. SHE NEEDS SUBSTANTIAL CONVENTIONAL ARMED FORCES.

Had the Argentinians been able to restrain themselves from invading the Falklands for another year or so they would in all probability have been able to get away with it.

SCRAPPED

Why? Because several of the most important ships presently involved in the Task Force would by then have been scrapped as part of the government's public expenditure cuts.

As it is, hundreds of the sailors involved in the Task Force sailed for the Falklands Islands with redundancy notices in their kit bags! Part of the cuts in the conventional forces have been imposed so that the government can afford to equip Britain with the hugely expensive American Trident nuclear deterrent.

Britain does need an independent nuclear deterrent — but she is capable of constructing her own system at a far lower cost than Trident.

AMERICAN PRESSURE

It was American financial pressure which forced Britain to scrap the TSR. 2 bomber which was decades ahead of anything possessed by either America or Russia.

The Trident system is so expensive that in order to afford it we are being forced to scuttle almost all of our remaining conventional armed forces.

Thus the Trident system will leave us virtually defenceless in all future armed conflicts other than an unthinkable global nuclear war!

Let us hope that the crisis in the Falklands has served as an Eleventh Hour warning to the British nation. If we want to retain (and win back) our national independence, we must be STRONG.

THESE TRAITORS BELONG IN JAIL AS WELL!

THE Tootal group of Companies, famous for manufacturing shirts, must be one of Margaret Thatcher's favourite firms. In the Tory Press the company is receiving lavish praise as one of the "leaner and fitter" firms which are resulting from the Government's policies.

Their Board of Directors is brimming over with confidence: "Tootal is definitely recovering from the recession." "We expect a big improvement in profits this year."

Yet to any normal British person the Tootal group of companies is a disaster.

Over the last two years its British workforce has slumped from 17,000 to just 9,500. It has closed down entire factories and its textile division has just 24 looms left out of the several thousand it had ten years ago.

BRITISH CLOSEDOWN

What has happened is that Tootal have quite deliberately been closing down their operations in Britain and moving their factories to Africa and the Far East.

While closing down British factories like the Manchester fabric printing firm of Strines with the loss of 600 jobs, they have just spent £8 million building a factory in West Africa to produce — printed fabric!

This cynical betrayal of their responsibility to the British people was summed up by their financial director, David Tattersall:

"In all divisions people's attitudes are changing to think of the world rather than the U.K."

BIGGER PROFITS

What he really means is that Margaret Thatcher has given the green light for companies to chase round the world for ever bigger profits and if that means throwing thousands of British people on to the dole queues then so be it.

Margaret Thatcher and the Conservative Party has quite clearly shown by their actions that their first priority is not the prosperity and welfare of the White British people.

Their main allegiance is to money and profit, and to the international financial barons and the multinational companies who are now bleeding this country dry.

Internationalist politicians and industrialists should not just be sacked for their betrayals. They should be jailed for their treason!

MULTI-RACIALISM SUBVERTS JUSTICE

A SYSTEM of Law and Justice can only work within a nation if the members of that nation are prepared to comply with it. Achieving such compliance is generally easier in nations in which all the members of the nation are also members of the same race. The reason for this is that people of the same race tend to have a shared experience of the same culture, history and psychology — the same 'folk soul' which is the only basis for a genuine and stable community.

Just because our British system of Law and Justice — evolved by our forebears over centuries — suits us (more or less), there is no reason to suppose it will suit racial aliens. On the contrary, there is every reason to suppose that it will not suit them, it not having evolved from their folk soul and thus not reflecting their culture and values. We found this to be so when we tried to impose our system of Law on aliens in the days of Empire — and we are finding it to be so in the multi-racial zoo that is modern day Britain.

It was only a matter of time and numbers before the racial aliens in our midst would start to dispute the right of our system of Law and Justice to regulate their lives; to demand that we, the host community, should change precious aspects of our way of life to accommodate them.

If we wish our race, nation and way of life to survive, this impudent challenge from the alien incomers must be firmly rebuffed. But judging from the proceedings in the recent trial of Terry May's killers, we British are in the grip of a masochistic death wish.

NF News seeks to persuade its readers to feel angry about the evils of multi-racialism and to direct their anger solely at the corrupt politicians who created a racial problem in Britain, and not to the Immigrant people in general. "Racialism" is NOT unlawful — only "racial hatred".

NEW NATION

ANNOUNCEMENT

A meeting of supporters of NEW NATION was held in London on Saturday 1st of May under the chairmanship of the magazine's new editor Andrew Brons.

After a full discussion of NEW NATION's vital role in the NF's programme of ideological development an appeal for funds raised £700.

As a result outstanding debts can be paid and NEW NATION will resume quarterly publication on 1st September this year.

We thank our subscribers for their patience.

VICTIM TERRY MAY

This jury (5 Blacks, 2 Asians, 4 Whites and a Jew) by majority decided:

THIS drawing made news and history by breaching the anonymity of the jury. Could any of the jurymen have been intimidated by its publication?

'NOBODY MURDERED TERRY MAY'

LAST June a mob of 70 Blacks went on a planned "Orgy of Violence" in Thornton Heath, South London. They burst into the Wilton Arms pub armed with sticks, knives, bottles, a rice flail and an axe.

Bobby Kennett, a White youngster, nearly had his arm severed by an axe blow. A 16 year old White girl had a fractured skull. Many other White customers were punched and kicked.

The Blacks were only chased out of the pub when the licensee started swinging an axe at them. About thirty of them took off towards Melfort Park.

A 51 year old White man who was window shopping had his feet kicked from under him and his head split open. A 30 year old White woman was knocked to the ground and kicked in the head.

White youth John Plested was driving a motorbike with Terry May on the back when he came across these savages. He thought they were just crossing the road and slowed down.

A friend, Stephen Cottis, who was on a motorbike following them, heard a shout of "Get him" and saw the mob attack John Plested and Terry May.

One White witness described the attack on Terry May:

"It was terrible, they were jumping on him, it was growing like an anthill."

Terry May died shortly afterwards from multiple stab wounds.

Yet after more than six weeks in Court, a Black dominated jury found no one guilty of murder!

One Black, Ronald Pilgrim, was found guilty of manslaughter and was sentenced to eight years jail. He could be free in five years.

Garry Huggins, described as the leader of this rampaging Black gang was only found guilty of riot and affray and was sentenced to five years.

The other defendants were either acquitted or were given sentences of borstal training or jail of between six months and four years.

The Trial: A Black Comedy

THIS trial should have been concerned with the identification and conviction of the murderers of Terry May. Yet from beginning to end the course of justice was perverted to serve the cause of multi-racialism.

The Black defence lawyers wanted to use the trial as a political platform, which they were able to do with the full approval of the legal establishment and the media.

The committal hearing was held last October at Croydon Magistrates Court, but this became farcical when the defence engaged eleven barristers who were able to cross actually joined in by asking any juror who was sympathetic to the National Front or hostile to Blacks to stand down.

OBJECTIONS TO WHITES

Hardly had the trial finally started than one of the Asian female jurors announced that she was a very distant relative of a defence lawyer Rudy Narayan. Because of this the jury selection started all over again with still more objections to White jurors.

The whole principle of English Law is that 12 men or women, chosen at random, should decide the fate of defendants, yet in this trial 53 objections were used by the lawyers representing the accused Blacks to secure a jury of 5 Blacks, 2 Asians, 4 Whites and 1 Jew.

When the trial got under way there were 15 Black defendants in the dock. Representing the accused were a host of lawyers — mostly Blacks. The jury was dominated by Blacks and Asians.

which had identified some of the attackers.

He still admitted to having accused one of the defendants, Garnett Hanson, of committing the murder.

Yet four of the Blacks charged with the murder were immediately acquitted, not by decision of the jury on the basis of all the evidence presented, but on the direction of the Judge.

After eight days of deliberations the multi-racial jury gave their verdicts the day after Easter, conveniently avoiding the possibility of any consequent Black riots over the holiday.

From a mob of 70 Blacks, just 15 were charged with riot and/or affray, and 7 with murder. The jury found only 10 Blacks guilty of riot of whom only 5 were also found guilty of affray — and only one of manslaughter.

Terry May was clearly murdered by a gang of savages in a frenzy of hatred for White people. His father, Donald, described his son's body after he had seen it in a morgue:

"His teeth were all smashed in and his face was in a terrible state."

Quite obviously the political demands of multi-racialism perverted the course of justice at this trial.

"A FARCE"—TERRY'S DAD

TERRY MAY's father, Donald May, had no reason to fear the multi-racial society. He was 49 years old, had a steady job and was happily married. He believed in the rule of Law and Order and in the sanctity of British Justice.

His son Terry was well suited to a multi-racial society: he had lots of Black friends, he liked reggae music and West Indian food, and even his girlfriend had a Black stepfather.

But last June Donald May's illusions began to be shattered when his son was hacked to death by a rampaging mob of Black savages.

When he saw his son's body, he broke down saying:

"I don't think animals should be treated like that, let alone a human being."

But Donald May could still believe that his son's killers would be brought to trial, convicted of murder and sentenced accordingly.

Terry's father, Donald May, (left) is comforted by remaining son Stephen

He wanted to attend the trial but the police dissuaded him from going to Court.

Now, nearly a year after his son's death and with no one found guilty of the murder, Donald May is heartbroken and bitter:

"This has totally destroyed my faith in British justice. The defence lawyers tried to make the trial into a political issue — now we get a result like this. How can I be satisfied? This wasn't a murder trial — it was a farce!"

REFUTING NARAYAN'S RUBBISH

GUYANA-born Rudy Narayan had the impossible job of defending Gary Huggins, who last June had been responsible for the recruitment of the Black gang which murdered Terry May.

Realising that the evidence was overwhelming, Narayan instead concentrated on showing that this rampaging mob was simply "defending" itself.

To do this he needed a bogeyman that would be acceptable to the Judge and the rest of the legal establishment — and they were only too happy to join in when he claimed that it was all the fault of the National Front.

He announced that the Wilton Arms pub was the local National Front "Headquarters" and was "something like a military base" from which White youths launched attacks on Blacks.

He maintained that the pub "needed to be destroyed if necessary".

Yet according to Adrian Woods, the Croydon National Front Organiser for the last two years, the pub, far from being a "military base" for the NF was rarely visited by members of the party.

Narayan went on to claim that there had been "250 racist attacks" on Blacks in the area in 18 months — a figure denied even by the local Community Relations Officer.

Narayan finally lost all touch with reality when he claimed that the Attorney-General, Sir Michael Havers and the Director of Public Prosecutions, Sir Thomas Hetherington had formed an "unholy alliance with the National Front".

The real unholy alliance was between Narayan, the Judiciary and the media to portray the National Front as the villain when the facts showed that it was a Black gang rampaging through Britain's sick multi-racial society that murdered Terry May.

examine prosecution witnesses without limit.

After twelve days only nine witnesses had been called, the last witness being in the box for three days. It was only at this stage in these incredible proceedings that the hearing was abandoned and a Bill of Indictment was used to send the Black defendants to trial.

Hardly had the defending lawyers set foot inside the Old Bailey than their antics began again.

Normally it is possible to raise 3 objections to members of the jury, but because there were 15 Blacks in the dock, they were allowed a total of 45 challenges of which they used 37.

The judge, far from condemning this ludicrous travesty of justice,

COUNCIL APPOINTS "INVESTIGATOR" AT

SOME Councils call them "Race Relations Advisers". Others call them "Ethnic Relations Officers" or "Race Relations Investigators".

These and other names all refer to a new and sinister breed of officials now lurking in our Town Halls.

Some of these officials may be West Indians, other may be Asians — none so far are British. But they all have one task in common:

To spy on Council departments and put pressure on department heads to hire Coloured Immigrants wherever possible.

INQUISITORS

The latest of these multi-racialist Inquisitors was hired by the Labour-controlled West Midlands County Council in March.

His name is Karamjit Singh, a Coventry-born Sikh. His official designation is "Race Relations Investigator". His salary is £15,000

'Investigator' Karamjit Singh

Prior to taking up his new Council job, Singh was a senior official with the Commission for Racial Equality (the Race Relations Board) whose job included "enforcing the employment aspect of the Race Relations Act".

ETHNIC ORIGINS LIST

The Birmingham Evening Mail reported that the first task that Singh will perform on his arrival at County Hall will be to compile a list of the ethnic origins of the Council's staff.

In addition to listening and categorising Council employees, he will also compile similar documentation on the West Midlands Constabulary and Fire Service.

The purpose of all this spying and listing is to see whether the County's workforce "reflects the multi-racial character of the West Midlands".

WHAT THIS PAGE IS ALL ABOUT

"IT'S the squeaky hinge that gets the oil" has long been the way in which those in authority react to events.

This fact is well illustrated by the way in which national and local government authorities are reacting to last year's race riots.

Quite simply, it is now official policy to try and pacify Britain's riot-prone Black and Asian communities by putting them FIRST in the queue for jobs, housing, welfare, educational and other services.

The authorities call this "Positive Discrimination". We call it an anti-British protection racket.

This page is devoted to explaining the various ways in which the White British people are being robbed of their birth-right in the name of "good race relations".

BRITONS! GET UP OFF YOUR KNEES!

'JOBS FOR BLACKS' A YEAR

'BLACK POWER'

The idea to appoint such an official is officially said to have come from the Council's Race Relations Sub-Committee. One of the most prominent members of this is West Indian Councillor James Hunte, long noted for his radical 'Black Power' views.

In reality, however, the move was instigated at a private meeting of the Council's all-Labour Policy Committee.

The appointment of a Race Relations Investigator has infuriated the leadership of the local branch of the National and Local Government Officers' Union. Branch Secretary Liz Motherwell said:

"As soon as you specialise on behalf of one group, you are discriminating against another. This appointment can only be counter-productive."

WHITE-LAW'S BEHEST

At the behest of Home Secretary William Whitelaw, the government is to conduct a census within the Civil Service to find out how many government employees are members of ethnic minority groups.

Mr. Whitelaw announced the census during a speech to Manchester Community Relations Council in March.

He said that he hoped the government's example would encourage other employers in the public and private sectors to employ more Immigrants.

HINDU 'STICK DANCE' IN WALSALL

HOW many British children can you spot in this picture of pupils attending Palfrey Junior School in Walsall? Along with the Asian Majority, the British pupils were involved in a "Multi-Cultural Dance Festival" recently, during which, among other things, they performed "Dandia Rass" — a Hindu "stick dance".

There is no reason why Immigrants should not maintain their cultural traditions while they remain in Britain. But why should OUR children be imbued with alien cultures when they have so much to learn about their British heritage?

LEFTY BISHOP MEETS TOP PUPILS

THIS picture typifies the humiliation of British people in multi-racial Britain. It shows the Bishop of Birmingham, Hugh Montefiore, being entertained by top pupils at the city's Highgate School during a recent pastoral visit.

The school's Head Girl, left, is a West Indian. The Head Boy is a Sikh. They were assisted by two other pupils — another Black and another Asian.

White-Christian-Gentile people are nowhere in the picture. Bishop Montefiore, noted for his Left Wing multi-racialist fanaticism, is Jewish.

COMPULSORY ISLAM LESSONS FOR BRITISH CHILDREN

PRESSURE is mounting throughout Britain for state schools to include the compulsory teaching of Islam to all pupils — including White Christians.

Announcing that compulsory Islam lessons were on the way in Slough, Berkshire, the Rector of Slough, the Rev. Graham Hendy, admitted that the plan would upset his parishioners, but he said the change "had to be".

"SUBTLE DIFFERENCE"

In contrast to the spirit of the Christian Crusaders, Rev. Hendy commented limply:

"I don't think the Church of England is in any position to say that only Christianity should be taught in schools. Religious education in schools is about religion. Church teaching is part of religion."

"A lot of my congregation may not see the subtle difference."

Mr. Robin Richardson, senior adviser to the County Education Authority on multi-racial education has formed an ad-hoc committee with Asian community leaders in Slough to discuss the new syllabus.

Sitting on this committee is Naseem Bajwa, President of the Pakistan Welfare Association. He told the Slough Observer:

"My association not only require Islam to be taught in local schools, we also want Asian languages, including Urdu and Punjabi, taught as part of the school syllabus."

The Asian pressure groups have achieved the success of getting Islam taught as part of the syllabus because some years ago they persuaded the Education Authority to let them use local schools for Islam, Urdu and Punjabi lessons out of normal school hours.

ROCHDALE NEXT

Permission has been granted by

Rochdale Borough Council's Schools Sub-Committee in March for Islam lessons to be given in local schools, out of school hours.

But if comments by Rochdale Councillor Mrs Mary Moffatt are anything to go by, this initial permission is only the thin end of the alien wedge. She believes:

"Urdu should be taught in our schools as a foreign language, just like French or German. Urdu is much more useful than Latin or Greek."

The National Union of Teachers published a policy document in March which stated that Asian and West Indian pupils should be taught in their mother tongues or dialects.

Heading the team which produced the report was Mr. John Bowdler. He said:

"Education spending cuts cannot be used as an excuse for failing to introduce mother-tongue teaching. Better use must be made of special government funds."

■ Bengali has overtaken Greek as the most commonly spoken foreign language in the 1,150 schools in the Inner London Education Authority's area, a report announced in January. 131 languages are now spoken other than English.

PLAN TO RESTRICT MORTGAGE TAX RELIEF TO 'INNER-CITIES'

A PLAN to stop giving most home buyers tax relief on their mortgages and to use the cash thus saved to subsidise home buyers and housing projects in "inner city areas" has been put forward by the boss of Britain's second-largest building society, the Abbey National.

The plan, called Housing Action, was prepared by Mr. Clive Thornton, Chief General Manager of the Abbey National. It has the full backing of the society's Chairman, Sir Campbell Adamson, formerly Chairman of the Confederation of British Industry.

BIG BUSINESS

The publication of the plan last January came about as a result of Mr. Thornton and numerous other big business bosses being given a conducted tour of Liverpool by Environment Minister Michael Heseltine shortly after the Toxteth race riot last year.

The purpose of this tour was to get over to the bosses this message:

If you want to ensure the profitability of your enterprises in the future, you must invest in social stability now. This means the Immigrant communities must be showered with money. More big riots could bring our whole system crashing down!

Mr. Thornton could see the sense in all this — but he didn't want to tie-up too much of his organisation's capital, so he drafted a scheme whereby individual average home-buyers (mostly Whites) would bear the financial burden.

As is well known, "inner city areas" is multi-racialist code for "areas mainly occupied by Coloured Immigrants".

In the plan he proposed:

"If the present government is so wedded to cutting public expenditure that it cannot spare a few funds, even in a crisis, it could start to make moves towards making better use of existing funds."

"It could, for example, phase out tax relief on mortgages, and restrict new mortgage interest relief to inner city areas..."

Mr. Thornton's outlook will come as no surprise to those who monitor the Race Relations Industry's propaganda output carefully.

In November last year he wrote the foreword to a report compiled by two academics from Leeds University which claimed that Asians in Britain faced home loan discrimination from building societies.

PANICKED

Will Mr. Thornton's plan be implemented?

As he has the backing of Sir Campbell Adamson, former head of the CBI ("the bosses' TUC"), and the ear of Environment Minister Michael Heseltine, the answer must be:

Yes — if not immediately, then after a few more race riots have thoroughly panicked Britain's Establishment.

CORPSE ASHES IN OUR RIVERS

GOVERNMENT Water Authorities responsible for providing the nation's drinking water have now given Asian Hindu communities in Britain official permission to scatter the ashes of their dead in Britain's rivers.

For some years past the Thames Water Authority has turned a blind eye to corpse ash scattering ceremonies in the beautiful upper reaches of the river.

Now the Authority which governs the use of the Severn and Trent rivers — both beloved by holiday-makers and fishermen — have given the Hindus official permission to use the rivers to receive the ashes of their dead.

How soon will it be before Hindus are allowed to burn their dead on traditional funeral pyres on the banks of our rivers?

WITHOUT COFFINS

Meanwhile, residents of Chingford, East London, are shocked by a Waltham Forest Borough Council decision to allow Muslim Asians to bury their dead in Chingford Mount Cemetery without coffins.

The Council insists that there is "no health risk" — but this is disputed. The disease-bearing fluids of a decomposing corpse can be contained within a coffin until nature renders them harmless.

But the fluid from corpses buried without coffins can, in time of heavy rain or flooding, seep to the surface or leak into streams or other water systems.

The nation's health is being endangered in the interests of "good community relations"!

COMMUNITY GROUP GRANTS: VAST SUMS 'UNACCOUNTED FOR'

ONE of the ways successive governments try to keep minority ethnic groups from rioting is by doling out millions of pounds worth of public money in grants to Black and Asian "community projects".

These grants are rarely accounted for properly, and often become the target for swindlers. The irresponsible way in which grants are allocated encourages corruption.

For example, in December of last year the Amenities Committee of Lambeth Borough Council approved the grant of £250,000 towards the first stage of a £1 million Black "cultural centre" in Brixton.

The money was voted despite the fact that nobody on the committee had ever heard of the person who signed the application for the grant, Michael Newlan, or knew anything of his "organisation", the "Afro-Caribbean Cultural Group".

It later transpired that Newlan was unknown at the address he had given on the application. Eventually it transpired that Newlan was a 28 year old West Indian who had once assisted at a Black youth club in Brixton in 1972.

"BROTHER HERMAN"

Newlan's project still has Lambeth Council's backing! The Council also plans to give the Brixton's West Indian dominoes club a grant of £80,000. It has 50 members.

West Indian Herman Edwards ("Brother Herman") was boss of the Islington based Harambee Project, whose stated objective was to provide accommodation for homeless young Blacks.

Bro. Herman was subsidised by Islington Council and the Man-

SIR George Young, the newly-appointed Environment Ministry Under-Secretary. His job is to throw taxpayers' money at Black and Asian "community projects" in hope of preventing more race riots.

power Services Commission. When Islington Council asked him to provide accounts, he refused to do so and denounced the request as a "White racist provocation!"

Last March he was convicted of stealing £25,000 from the MSC by misdirecting cash intended for the conversion of a derelict building into a hostel.

The St. Barnabas Community Project in St. Paul's, Bristol, is to be granted £208,500 by the government to facilitate the conversion of an old school into a West Indian community centre.

Wolverhampton Council is to give £100,000 in grants this year. £43,000 will go to the local Community Relations Council and £65,000 will go to an Afro-Caribbean Centre.

JOE PEARCE: "I'LL FIGHT BY-ELECTION"

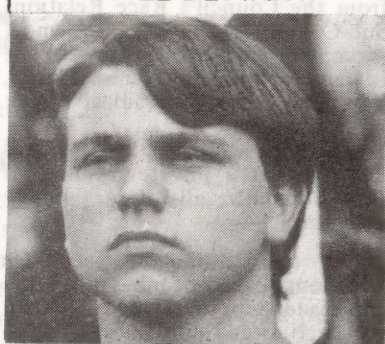

JOE PEARCE will come out of jail doing precisely what he did as he was sent down to the cells at the Old Bailey on 12th January: proclaiming his defiance of the Race Traitors!

His release from Chelmsford Prison has been set for 12th May, but he has already confirmed his willingness to contest the Mitcham and Morden Parliamentary by-election, the Polling Day for which has been set for 3rd June.

FREE, WHITE AND 21

Arrangements have been made for Joe to sign the "Consent to Nomination" form on the very day that he steps to freedom. He became qualified to stand as a candidate on 12th March — the date of his 21st birthday.

STILL DEFIANT

JOE PEARCE — editor of Bulldog.

This means that within a couple of days of leaving prison he will be in the thick of a by-election campaign. In a recent letter from prison Joe wrote:

"As I have never stood as a candidate before I will need all the help in the constituency I can possibly get. I do hope that some of the hundreds of people who have sent me cards and letters will become regular campaign workers!"

ADOPTION MEETING

All NF members and supporters are invited to attend Joe's Adoption Meeting in Morden at 8.00 p.m. on Tuesday 18th May. Re-direction Stewards will be outside Morden Underground station from 7.00 p.m.

HOW YOU CAN HELP JOE AT MITCHAM & MORDEN

1) THE ELECTION CAMPAIGN will begin the moment the borough Council elections are over on 6th May. People are needed every day and evening thereafter (including weekends) to help with leafletting, poster-ing, canvassing/newspaper sales, loudspeaking, etc. Those with vehicles especially needed. Until Committee Rooms are announced, will all helpers please report to NF H.Q., 50 Pawns Road, Croydon (5 mins Selhurst B.R. Station) Tel: 01-684-0271. Transport for constituency departs 7.30 p.m. each weekday evening and frequently during daytime/weekends.

2) THE MARCH AND RALLY will take place on Saturday 29th May. Assemble: 2.00 p.m. outside Morden Underground station (Northern Line). After the march there will be an election Rally — probably in a local school. In the event of a Police ban on the march, a "Mass Canvassing" exercise will replace the march — and the rally will still take place later in the afternoon. So disregard any march bans and turn up at Morden at 2.00 p.m.!

DAVID RILEY CONVICTED

FOUR concurrent six-month jail sentences, suspended for two years, and Court costs of more than £700 were imposed on David Riley, Chairman of Accrington NF Branch after his trial at Preston Crown Court on 29th April.

In view of the D.P.P.'s reluctance to prosecute Black riot leaders and the lenient treatment accorded to Black race-hate murderers, Mr. Riley must, surely, have done something very bad indeed.

His 'crimes' were that he had written, printed on a duplicator and distributed perhaps as many as 100 of each of two leaflets!

These called upon householders to write to the local Council's Planning Department to oppose an application by two Asians to convert houses in residential areas into late night take-away food shops!

Mr. Riley, 30, an internal auditor, had no previous convictions. He told the press afterwards:

"This trial was a farce — the outcome of political malice. But it will not deter me from plodding on."

David Riley

Mr. Riley now faces a County Court action brought by the Race Board accusing him of "inciting racial discrimination."

Contributions to the 'David Riley Defence Fund' should be made out to the 'Accrington NF Branch' and sent to 4 Lodge Street, Accrington, Lancs.

THANK YOU BLACKPOOL!

BLACKPOOL residents and visitors gave the National Front a tolerant and courteous welcome when the party staged its annual St. George's Day parade and rally in the town on Saturday 24th April.

In glorious Spring weather, more than 800 NF members, led by the N.W. Regional Drum Corps, paraded along the entire length of the resort's famous sea front, from the North Pier to the South Pier.

The usual alliance of Labour Party Marxists, Trots, Zionists and Anti Nazi League rowdies attempted to intimidate this town — which has a tradition for extending hospitality to all political parties.

The Reds threatened "blood on the streets" if the Police and the Town Council did not act to ban the NF march.

But the town refused to be bullied. Indeed, the Council allowed the NF to use a disused open-air swimming pool as the venue for its rally.

On the day, fewer than 100 Red rabble counter-demonstrated, and there were no arrests or violent incidents.

Speakers (see middle picture) at the rally were Blackpool Branch Chairman Alvin Hanson; N.W. England Regional Organiser David Riley; National Activities Organiser Martin Webster; NF Deputy-Chairman Ian Anderson; and NF Chairman Andrew Brons.

A collection of more than £400 was taken.

"I'D BAN THE NF" SAYS LABOUR POLICE COMMITTEE CHAIRMAN

WINNER of the NF News "Bigot-ted Marxist Crank of the Year" award for 1982 is Councillor Peter Kelly, Chairman of the Greater Manchester Police Committee.

Addressing the annual meeting of Rochdale Community Council in March, Kelly declared:

"Membership of the National Front should be illegal and all racist organisations should be driven underground. The National Front is an intolerable threat."

"A debate is going on in the Labour Party about proscribing the National Front, but there are no moves to make this part of party policy, although I hope this happens."

"Driving this organisation underground would achieve two objectives. It would curtail its activities in more abrasive areas and it would give more confidence to the Black and Asian Communities."

"Every democratic community has got to draw the line somewhere. Society must protect itself against anyone prepared to use violence to overthrow democracy."

People should not laugh at cranks like Kelly. It is now official Labour Party policy to make the Police "democratically answerable" to people like him and the Black Labour Marxist Paul Boetang, Chairman of the GLC's Police Committee.

NEW HISTORICAL RESEARCH GROUP

CONTROVERSIAL 'Holocaust' detractor Richard Harwood, author of the world famous booklet Did Six Million Really Die? has announced the formation of a non-party organisation called the Centre for Historical Review.

The CHR is a small ad hoc association of historians and other academics, writers and publishers, who have set themselves the task of "rooting out and exposing harmful propaganda fabrications which have been presented as fact in orthodox accounts of recent history."

'Holocaust' News is the CHR's first publication. Its purpose, according to Mr. Harwood, is: "to make available to the public at large the essential findings of the 'Revisionist' historians."

Dr. Jacob Gerwitz of the Board of Deputies of British Jews has expressed the opinion that 'Holocaust' News is "similar to material published by the Saudi Arabians".

LOCAL ELECTIONS

THE National Front is the only British Nationalist party to have any candidates nominated in this year's round of local government elections.

The party's main effort is concentrated in London where the elections for borough councils are taking place.

In these the party has nominated a total of 57 candidates in 24 wards in 17 boroughs. Each ward offers 2 or 3 vacancies, and all except one of these is being contested with a full complement of candidates.

Southwark Branch is making the biggest effort in London with campaigns running in three wards in support of seven candidates.

In the provinces, Birmingham Branch is contesting for two 2-candidate wards; Tameside Branch is contesting two 1-candidate wards and Manchester Branch is contesting for a 3-candidate ward.

Leicester Group is contesting in simultaneous City and County by-elections for a 1-candidate vacancy for the same ward.
